THE EXOTIC SUBLIME on a wing

November 16, 2023 – February 5, 2024

DEADLINE FOR ENTRIES: Sunday, October 8, 2023

THE EXOTIC SUBLIME on a wing will present a contemporary bestiary focused on the many creatures that take to the air in the Sonoran Desert. In plain sight or elusive, real and imagined creatures are ever-present, existing, threatened, mysterious, endangered, mystical, and magical. Or extinct. Mammalian, insect, and avian worlds fly, float, soar, hover, flap, and flutter around us; resilient lifecycles adaptably ever-changing. Or not. We witness - in macrocosm or microcosm - the effects of time in slow dissolution or methodical accretion; cautionary and symbiotic tales combine what this place used to be with what this place will become. The voice in between, the creative and artistic resolve, is a visionary current toward the odd and wondrous grandeur of The Exotic Sublime.

Addressing our role in this Anthropocene epoch and the human-caused impact upon our immediate environment, this series of exhibitions will shed new light on climate change, threatened and endangered species, habitat loss/degradation/fragmentation, invasive exotic species, migratory paths, water diversion/scarcity, etc.

Concentrating on the Sonoran Desert's winged inhabitants, this exhibition is the second in the series, THE EXOTIC SUBLIME. To follow: THE EXOTIC SUBLIME treading softly, a bestiary centering on creatures that walk the desert landscape with THE EXOTIC SUBLIME on plants, on desert operating as a contemporary florilegium of plant life in the Sonoran Desert.

Artists from the region are encouraged to submit 2-dimensional and 3-dimensional works in any media for consideration – video and creative writing submissions are welcome.
